Subject: Online Survey - Tamar Valley National Landscape Management Plan 2025-2030

Information Classification: CONTROLLED

Dear all,

Our online survey, for people to share their views on Tamar Valley National Landscape to help inform our Management Plan 2025-2030, will soon go live.

Please find attached the press release that was issued this morning (link to news post on our website - <https://www.tamarvalley-nl.org.uk/2024/07/16/have-your-say-on-what-you-value-most-about-tamar-valley-national-landscape/>)

The survey will be available to complete from 29 July – 26 August, and from 29 July can be found at <https://letstalk.cornwall.gov.uk>

You will also find attached four different posters for you to choose from if you are able to print off and add to your parish/town noticeboard, and/or to use on social media.

If you use Facebook, Instagram or LinkedIn, please like and share when I post content on the following days:

- Fri 26 July
- Tues 13 August
- Thurs 22 August

Many thanks in advance for your help in sharing this information through your networks.

With kind regards,

Charlotte

PRESS RELEASE

Have your say on what you value most about Tamar Valley National Landscape

A place to be.

A place to breathe.

A place to thrive.

That's just part of the vision, as the team at Tamar Valley National Landscape prepares to undergo a review of its Management Plan for the next five years, to shape its priorities, activities and delivery plans from 2025 to 2030.

They would like to know what you value most about the Tamar Valley area, what you think might be enhanced and your thoughts on what they should focus on and prioritise over the coming years.

This will be the sixth statutory Management Plan since the Tamar Valley was designated as an Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty in 1995. Over the past 29 years, they have secured £16m of investment and delivered 343 projects for the Tamar Valley.

The change in name to Tamar Valley National Landscape took place last winter, as part of a national effort to reflect the significant role our protected landscapes have in protecting the nation from threats of climate change, Nature depletion and the wellbeing crisis.

Sarah Gibson, Tamar Valley National Landscape Manager says, “We have a unique opportunity to make a real difference to protect our landscape, the Nature it supports and our communities that live and work in the Tamar Valley. We’re really keen to hear what matters most to you, and how we can strengthen our efforts to conserve and enhance natural beauty.”

The team from Tamar Valley National Landscape will be holding a number of face-to-face consultation events throughout September and October, where you’ll be able to comment on the first draft of the Management Plan. You will also hear more about their long-term plans to shape a vision for 2055, defining their commitment for another 30 years in protecting and enhancing Nature; creating resilience as we adapt to a changing climate; and ensuring that the Tamar Valley is an accessible, healthy and thriving place for all.

Dates and venues will be announced shortly – follow @tamarvalleynl on social media for the latest news, or visit www.tamarvalley-nl.org.uk

In the meantime, please share your views by completing this survey. It will take no longer than 10 minutes, and will be a great help in understanding the needs, preferences and values of the Tamar Valley community. The survey will be available from Monday 29 July until Monday 26 August at <https://letstalk.cornwall.gov.uk/>
